About the Seminar to commemorate National Law Day (26th November)

The National Law Day programme held with great enthusiasm, commemorating the adoption of the Indian Constitution. The event featured a distinguished lecture delivered by Professor (Dr.) Prof.(Dr.)I.G.Ahmed, Professor of law, Sikkim University, Sikkim. The theme of the lecture, “Constitutional Contours of Individual as Subject of International Law : An Indian perspective,” provided an intellectually stimulating discussion, shedding light on the evolving role of individuals within the frameworks of constitutional and international legal systems.

The programme commenced with the welcome address by Dr. Caesar Roy, Assistant Professor, Surendranath Law College, fostering awareness about constitutional values and the relevance of the Constitution in the global legal landscape. It was followed by felicitation of Chief Guest Prof.(Dr.)I.G.Ahmed by Ms. Sudeshna Mukherjee Poddar, faculty of Law and introduction of guest by Dr. Shyamali Mukherjee Bhattacharya, Asst. Prof. Surendranath Law College. The session was chaired by Dr. Mohammadi Tarannum, Vice Principal, Surendranath Law College.

Professor (Dr.)I.G.Ahmed, Professor of law, Sikkim University, started the lecture by tracing the historical context of international law, traditionally perceived as a domain governing relations among sovereign states. He highlighted the gradual evolution of international law, particularly after World War II, when individuals began to emerge as key subjects, challenging the state-centric paradigm.

The lecture followed by a lively interactive session, where students and faculty posed thought-provoking questions. Discussions revolved around issues like the role of non-state actors, and the future trajectory of individual rights under international law.

The seminar concluded with a concluding remark and vote of thanks by the convener, Dr. Shyamali Mukherjee Bhattacharya, Asst. Prof. Surendranath Law College who expressed gratitude to Professor (Dr.) Prof.(Dr.)I.G.Ahmed, for the enlightening lecture and to all attendees for their active participation. The event underscored the enduring relevance of constitutional and international legal principles in addressing contemporary challenges.

The Constitution Day seminar was a resounding success, enriching participants' knowledge and fostering meaningful discussions on the evolving contours of law. It reiterated the importance of nurturing a constitutional culture that aligns with global legal standards while upholding individual dignity and rights.
